Site visit made on 1 February 2023

by Hilary Orr MSc, MRTPI

an Inspector appointed by the Secretary of State

Decision date: 16 May 2023

Appeal H Ref: APP/L3815/C/21/3286063

Appeal I Ref: APP/L3815/C/21/3286064

Appeal J Ref: APP/L3815/C/21/3286065

Land to the west of Newells Farm, West Ashling, Chichester, West Sussex PO18 8DD

- The appeals are made under section 174 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 as amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991.
 - Appeal H is made by Mr George Smith, Appeal I by Mr G Smith Jnr, Appeal J by Mrs Josie Hughes, against an enforcement notice issued by Chichester District Council.
 - The enforcement notice, numbered FU/87, was issued on 27 September 2021.
 - The breach of planning control as alleged in the notice is the material change of use of land to use as a residential mobile home/caravan site.
 - The requirements of the notice are:
 - (i) Cease the use of the Land as a residential mobile home/caravan site
 - (ii) Remove all mobile homes/caravans from the Land;
 - (iii) Remove all wooden utility buildings, portaloos, outdoor furniture, barbecues, play equipment and washing lines from the Land;
 - (iv) Break up the hardstanding in the approximate position shown on the attached plan and remove the resulting debris from the Land; and
 - (v) On completion of step (iv) above, level the Land with topsoil and reseed the land with grass.
 - The period for compliance with the requirements is 6 months.
 - Appeal H is proceeding on the grounds set out in section 174(2) (a) and (g) of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 as amended. Since an appeal has been brought on ground (a), an application for planning permission is deemed to have been made under section 177(5) of the Act. The prescribed fees have not been paid for appeals I and J, and these appeals on ground (a) and the application for planning permission deemed to have been made under section 177(5) of the Act as amended have lapsed and their appeals proceed on ground (g).

Decisions

Appeals H, I and J

1. It is directed that the enforcement notice is varied by the deletion of 6 months and the substitution of 12 months, as the time for compliance. Subject to the variation, the appeals are dismissed, the enforcement notice is upheld and planning permission is refused on the application deemed to have been made under section 177(5) of the 1990 Act as amended.

Appeal K

2. The appeal is dismissed.

Preliminary matters

3. The appeal site forms part of a wider piece of land that has been subdivided into plots. Consequently, a number of appeals were heard by way of a combined Hearing¹. The wider site already has the benefit of a conditional permission allowed on appeal (APP/L3815/W/19/3220300), for the stationing of five static caravans and five tourers for residential purposes, together with associated operational development. These permitted pitches are sited close to and parallel to Newells Lane.
4. The parties agreed in the joint Statement of Common Ground (SoCG) that the Gypsy status of the appellants and their families is not in dispute. I have no reason to come to a different view.
5. Following a recent appeal decision (APP/L3815/W/21/3268916) the Council confirmed that they no longer wished to pursue their first reason for refusal, namely the location of the development. I have considered the appeal on this basis.
6. At the Hearing the appellants supplied a signed undertaking dated 31 January 2023, to pay the Council the agreed sum for the provision of access mitigation measures in respect of the Chichester and Langstone Harbours Special Protection Areas, as a planning obligation. In view of this, the Council confirmed that they did not wish to pursue this reason for refusal. If the appeal was to be allowed, it would still be necessary for the decision maker to carry out an appropriate assessment for this and the potential for the discharge of nitrogen and phosphorous, into the Solent.
7. For clarity, Appeal H is proceeding on grounds (a) and (g) and Appeal I and Appeal J, on ground (g) only. Appeal K relates to the s78 appeal, that sought permission for three pitches, with associated hardstanding and day rooms.

Main Issues for Appeal H ground (a) and Appeal K s78 appeal

8. I consider that the main issues are:

¹ APP/L3815/C/21/3273750; APP/L3815/W/21/3267885; APP/L3815/C/20/3264513; APP/L3815/W/20/3266164; APP/L3815/C/21/3284975; APP/L3815/W/20/3259313; APP/L3815/W/20/3254259; APP/L3815/C/21/3286063; APP/L3815/C/21/3286065; APP/L3815/C/21/3286064; and APP/L3815/W/21/3285488

- Whether the development represents an acceptable form of development, having regard to the following matters: The character and appearance of the area, having regard to the cumulative impact of the development;
- The effect of the development on recreational disturbance, water and nitrates; and
- Whether any harm arising from the above matters is outweighed by any other material considerations.

Reasons

Policy background

9. The emerging Chichester Local Plan 2021 – 2039 sets out a range of mechanisms to meet the needs of the Gypsy and traveller community during the plan period up to 2039, including allocating sites and intensification of suitable existing sites. The latest consultation was completed in March 2023 and therefore it is at an early stage and attracts very little weight. Policies in the Chichester District Council Adopted Local Plan: Key policies 2014-2029. (2015) (LP) are therefore pertinent to the determination of this appeal.
10. Planning Policy for Traveller Sites (PPTS) in paragraph 25 states that local planning authorities should very strictly limit new traveller site development in open countryside, that is away from existing settlements and ensure that sites in rural areas respect the scale of, and do not dominate, the nearest settled community. Policy 36 of the LP, reflects this position. However, neither document provides any guidance, or defines how dominance should be assessed.
11. Policy 36 of the LP specifically deals with the needs of gypsy and travellers and is therefore relevant to the assessment of these appeals. It was originally based on the Gypsy and Traveller and Travelling Showpeople Assessment that was carried out in 2013. However, the Council has carried out a further Gypsy and Traveller Accommodation Assessment (GTAA) (2022) which was published in January 2023, which provides an updated position. The policy sets out that where there is a shortfall in provision, sites will be allocated within the Gypsy, Traveller and Travelling Showpeople Site Allocation DPD. It goes on to set out criteria for assessing the suitability of sites. These criteria will be addressed later in this decision.

Character and appearance and cumulative effect of the development

12. The PPTS at paragraph 25 states that local planning authorities should very strictly limit new traveller site development in open countryside, that is away from existing settlements and ensure that sites in rural areas respect the scale of, and do not dominate, the nearest settled community. Policy 36 of the LP, reflects this position. However, neither document provide any guidance, or define how dominance should be assessed.
13. The Council have provided a limited geographical assessment of the ratios of the settled population, compared to the local Gypsy and Traveller population. However, during the discussion at the Hearing, they made it clear that their primary concerns relate more to the cumulative visual impact of the developments. In summary, their position is that the development of this and the other sites subject to this appeal, together with the existing permitted sites result in a cluster of Gypsy and Traveller sites, that harm the prevailing character of this rural area, both in scale and density, such that it dominates the nearest settled community.

14. The representative for Funtington Parish Council and the representative from Genesis Town Planning who was speaking for other residents, referred to Census data in their oral submissions. It is their case that if each pitch, where a static caravan and a tourer is permitted, was occupied by more than one family, then this would represent a disproportionate number of Gypsy and Traveller families, when compared to the settled population. I have no factual, or survey evidence before me, to support the likelihood or scale of this scenario, so it can only be treated as speculation. Moreover, if the evidence indicated that this was likely to occur, then a suitably worded condition could be imposed to restrict the occupation of the pitches to one family.
15. The site is located outside the settlement boundary, in an area characterised by agriculture, open countryside interspersed by some agricultural and equestrian buildings, together with sporadic residential development that includes some existing residential caravan sites. West Ashling lies 0.6 km from the site, where there are some of the local facilities, such as a pub and school that are generally accepted to serve a local community. Accordingly, I do not consider that the site is 'away from existing settlements' for the purposes of the PPTS.
16. The appeal site lies to the north-west of Newells Lane, with the main internal access to all of the sites taken from the lane. There are three internal spur roads, that largely run parallel to each other and Newells Lane. The appeal site is located fairly centrally within the wider site. This wider site lies in close proximity to the corner of the established caravan site in Scant Lane, although there are several intervening fences between them, that retain visual and physical separation.
17. The Council advise that the local area has planning permission for some 43 pitches, with a further 10 unauthorised and under investigation. They confirm that these are unlikely to be tolerated. From the plans that accompanied the planning application, there would be three pitches, with one mobile home, one touring caravan and a day room per pitch.
18. Whilst the site must be considered on its own merits, it must also be assessed in the context of what is happening with the other appeals before me. In the event that all of these appeals were to be allowed and subject to conditions, there would undoubtedly be an increase in the number of pitches. I also saw that another pitch has been developed, although this is the subject of an outstanding planning application. As the outcome of this application is uncertain, it does not form part of my assessment.
19. Residential caravan development is often designed at greater density than more traditionally built residential schemes and that is the case here. However, this and the other appeal sites are generally well screened from Newells Lane and the existing sites by existing hedging and fencing. I recognise the concern about these sites coalescing with existing sites. However, from my site visit and walk around the general area, save for the 5 pitches already permitted on this piece of Land, the remaining sites to the north and west remain physically separate. Moreover, the undeveloped land on the corner of Newells Lane and Scant Road, retains the physical and visual separation between the sites.

20. The development of any residential caravan site with any associated buildings and hardstanding, on previously undeveloped land, will inevitably result in some change to the character and appearance of the area. I find the change has resulted in harm by the generally unsympathetic use of internal fencing and the extensive hard surfacing on this and the other appeal sites. Nevertheless, even when considered cumulatively with the other appeals, the identified harm could not be said to be of a magnitude that it dominates the settled community.
21. For these reasons, I find moderate harm to the character and appearance of the area which conflicts with Policies 36, 45 and 48 of LP that seek to ensure that development respects and has minimal impact on the landscape and rural character of the area.

Recreational disturbance and nutrient neutrality

22. It is not in dispute that the development is sited within the 5.6 km 'Zone of influence' of the Chichester and Langstone Harbours Special Protection Area (SPA) and as such has the potential to harm this area of conservation due to increased recreational disturbance. The parties also agree that due to the increase in wastewater from the development, it has the potential to have a significant detrimental effect on the Solent Maritime Special Area of Conservation (SAC).
23. Since the appeal was lodged, the position regarding mitigation measures for nutrient discharge has changed for all residential development. Generally new development will use the off-site purchase of credits to offset any harm. However, the Council confirmed that they, together with the South Downs National Park, where offsetting sites are located, are seeking to come to a new overarching mitigation strategy. This will include a re-calculation of the chargeable fees for monitoring. Consultation with Natural England on this commenced on 23 January 2023. Once this consultation is complete, a report will be taken to Committee to consider whether to adopt this, or any other, agreed mitigation strategy. In essence, this means that for an undetermined period, no further legal agreements for mitigation will be signed, including at these appeal sites and other residential schemes.
24. The parties have made a number of suggestions to give time to overcome this in the short term. The first is to delay issuing the appeal decisions for an initial period of 3 months. The second would be to grant a temporary planning permission, with all foul sewerage collected and then transported away from the site to Ford, Tangmere or Lidsay, for disposal outside the SAC. The third option is the installation of a water treatment works on the appeal site itself.
25. I accept that this is a very unfortunate and unforeseen position for the appellant. I have considered all of the alternatives in turn. It is clear that there is considerable uncertainty about how long this process will take, whether an agreement will be reached and then adopted. I share the Council's concerns that it would not be possible to enforce where any wastewater is disposed of, once removed from the site by a third party. The appellant acknowledges that the proposal to install a water treatment plant on site would not be adequate in the light of the nutrient issues, so would be prepared to install an alternative. However, I have not been provided with any plans or worked alternative to demonstrate how nutrient neutrality could be achieved.

26. Consequently, given both the sensitive and retrospective nature of the development, I am not satisfied that any of these options would provide an appropriate means to offset any ongoing and significant harm to the SAC. The development is therefore found to be unacceptable in this regard.

Other considerations

27. It is agreed that unmet need is a material consideration for this appeal. The Council has carried out a further Gypsy and Traveller Accommodation Assessment (GTAA) (2022) which was published in January 2023. This indicates a significant unmet need for 158 pitches. This includes 28 from those who did not meet the Opinion Research Services and Planning Policy for Traveller Sites (PPTS), definition at the time. A further 82 pitches for those meeting their definition, will be required over the period 2022 to 2026. Whilst the Local Plan Review is exploring how this unmet need can be addressed, it has increased considerably since the last GTAA and represents a very significant shortfall and, to my mind, represents a failure of policy which weighs heavily in support of the development.
28. The appellant has provided details of his and his extended families' personal circumstances. From the evidence, the appellant occupies the first pitch, with his wife and child, the second pitch would be occupied by their daughter and her four children and the third by his son, wife and their child. The younger children range in age from 2 to 10 years with those of school age attending nearby schools and medical services. The family are seeking a settled base having had to leave their previous site.
29. The needs of the children are a primary consideration of substantial weight but are not necessarily determinative. However, as with all those who travel, a settled base would enable the family to have access to medical care and education and this undoubtably weighs substantially in favour of the scheme. Furthermore, I acknowledge that the proposal would provide limited further social and economic benefits and would provide three additional Gypsy and Traveller pitches, contributing towards the Council's targets.
30. The Council confirmed at the Hearing, that there are no alternative, suitable and affordable pitches available for the family to move to. The public site maintained by West Sussex County Council, currently has a waiting list of more than 90 names. All of the above factors weigh significantly in favour of the development.
31. Turning to the criteria set out in Policy 36 of the LP, I have found significant harm due to the proximity of the site to the SPA and SAC. However, the site does not lie within any other nationally designated areas of landscape, historic environment or nature conservation. I have found moderate harm to the character and appearance of the area but not to the extent that it dominates the nearest settled community. I note that the Highways Authority have not raised any objection in terms of highway safety or the impact on the operation of the highway network. No objections have been raised or evidence submitted to suggest that the development would be harmful to those living on the site or nearby.

32. The Council have conceded that the location of the site is acceptable and I have no reason to come to a different view. I acknowledge that the site is relatively constrained, but the layout provides sufficient space for parking and manoeuvring of vehicles, together with some amenity space allowing the occupiers to use the available space to satisfy their own requirements. The site is located in flood zone 1 (low risk), and not adjacent to any other incompatible known uses. Matters of surface water disposal can be addressed through a suitably worded condition.

Planning balance

33. The planning balance on this and the other sites is very finely balanced. On the one hand there are a number of factors set out above that weigh significantly in favour of the development. These include the contribution of additional gypsy and traveller pitches, meeting the personal needs for this family for a settled base, the lack of alternative sites alongside other social and economic benefits.
34. However, on the other hand and set against these benefits, is the moderate harm I have identified to the character and appearance of the area and the clearly significant harm, stemming from the uncertain position regarding the mechanism, to offset any harm resulting from nutrient discharge to the SAC. Accordingly, I find that on balance, this identified harm is not outweighed by those matters advanced in support of the proposal.
35. I am very conscious of the appellant's and his extended families personal circumstances and the effect that dismissing this appeal is likely to have on them. I have carefully considered the Human Rights issues that are pertinent to this appeal. However, the protection of the public interest cannot be achieved by means which are less interfering of the appellant's rights.
36. As set out above, the appellant's evidence makes reference to the families circumstances and I have had due regard to the Public Sector Equality Duty, contained in section 149 of the Equality Act 2010, which sets out the need to eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation, and to advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it. Nonetheless, for the above reasons, I consider that the decision is proportionate and necessary in the circumstances.
37. I have also considered whether a temporary grant of planning permission would be appropriate for these appeals. The Planning Practice Guidance advises that temporary permissions may be appropriate where it is expected that the planning circumstances will change in a particular way at the end of the permitted period. I have acknowledged that the matters relating to nutrient neutrality will need to be overcome at some point in the future. However, there is no evidence before me to provide any certainty over either the timescales, or the mechanisms involved. Accordingly, a temporary planning permission, for 3 years as suggested by the appellant, is not justified, given the serious risk to the Solent Maritime SAC.

38. As I am dismissing the appeals for other reasons, there is no need to consider the appropriate assessment for recreational disturbance further.

Other matters

39. Whilst not forming one of the reasons for issuing the notice or refusing the planning application, the Council have expressed a general concern about the biodiversity and surface water drainage on the site. As part of the SoCG, conditions were agreed including the submission of details for hard standings and a scheme of ecological enhancement, including the installation of bat boxes, bird boxes, additional native hedge planting and the planting of a wildflower meadow. In the event that the appeals were to be allowed and planning permission granted, I agree that these could be secured through the use of suitably worded conditions.

Interim conclusion

40. For all these reasons the appeals under ground (a) and s78 fail.

Appeals H, I and J ground (g)

41. For an appeal under this ground to succeed, it is necessary to consider whether the compliance period of 6 months is too short. The appellant has suggested that an alternative timescale of at least 3 years would be more reasonable.

42. The development must be considered in the context of the identified harm and the time required to undertake the works. I have identified harm to the character and appearance of the area and harm arising from nutrient discharge to the SAC.

43. I acknowledge the ongoing uncertainty over if and how, appropriate mitigation could be achieved. However, as this is an issue that will affect other development proposals coming forward, it is an issue that the Council will need to resolve as quickly as possible. Accordingly, for these reasons I do not consider that an extension of 3 years would be justified and would amount to a temporary grant of planning permission. Nonetheless, under these unusual circumstances, I am satisfied that a period of 12 months represents a reasonable and proportionate timescale. The appeal on ground (g) therefore succeeds to this extent.

Conclusion

Appeals H, I and J

44. For the reasons given above, I conclude that the appeal should not succeed. I shall uphold the enforcement notice with a variation and refuse to grant planning permission on the application deemed to have been made under section 177(5) of the 1990 Act as amended.

Appeal K

45. I have considered all of the matters that have been raised, but for the reasons outlined above, I conclude that the appeal should be dismissed.
